Hartley's
Stands for Honesty

Good Evening!

How do you like the new cut?

Does it state a truth?

Have you ever found us other than honest in all your dealings?

We may have erred—that's only human—but to be dishonest, NEVER!

So we've adopted the word as our slogan, and shall continue to live up to it, day in and day out, in big and little transactions.

The Wash Goods Are Going Fast.

It has been nothing short of sensational, the way the Wash Goods have sold.

Women haven't stopped at buying one dress; but two, three and as many as six have been cut off in nearly as many minutes.

Sale will Continue the Rest of the Week.

If you're supplied, why call right—if not, you can't match our values anywhere.

Have You Had Your Share of Those $100 Shirts For 75c?

Just about another day's selling will clean them out. Women bought the most of them, as the men probably thought they are better judges of material. We repeat the story:

MEN'S FANCY PERCALE SHIRTS

In Gray and Tan grounds, with dots and stripes of black. Fast colors, pocket and one pair of detached cuffs.

Regularly $1.00.

Tan Oxfords

For Woman.

We can't remember when the Tan Oxford was so popular as now. But they must be TAN.

Lemon-colored Oxfords are apt to squeeze your feet and make you look sour. So insist on Tan.

Ours are a pretty shade—a duplicate of our early season order, in the popular Blucher style.

Soles are extended, vamps are creased—it's a dandy fine summer Oxford.

SNAP SHOTS

The band music, which has heretofore been heard every Sunday afternoon, en route to Traction Park, has been prohibited by Mayor Kinsey.

Professor Pat Summers, the bridge jumper who has advertised a jump from the suspension bridge for Saturday evening next, will not be allowed to do his stunt. Chief Morgan has received instructions from Mayor Kinsey to this effect.

Mel Martin and E. E. Buffington were among the Grafton people who witnessed the game here yesterday. Mike Doyle was fined $6.00 by His Honor this morning, and Bob Brown $8.00, both for drunkenness.

A horse being driven by Mr. Grannis, who works for Contractor E. ridge on the new city water works, became frightened at a car at the corner of Main and Jefferson yesterday at noon and started to run away. Mr. Grannis surely managed the animal well for by the time he arrived at Billingsie's drug store he had the animal stopped. A broken shaft was the extent of the damage done.

In a Serious Condition.

Mrs. Estelle Collins, the insane woman who was committed to jail a few days ago, is almost wild. She has not slept since being put in and she keeps dancing and screaming all the time. It is hoped that the authorities at Weston will soon be able to take her as the jail here is not a fit place for her.

Preached from a Chair.

Dr. J. H. Lucas, pastor of the People's Temple, preached from his chair yesterday. Saturday evening while coming down by the Catholic church his ankle turned, causing him to fall and break his foot. He had to be taken home in a carriage. Yesterday he was taken to and from his church in a carriage. Although he was not able to stand his sermon was excellent.

Is Not Insane.

Mrs. Hattie Davis, whose husband accuses her of being somewhat disreputable, was set free from the county jail Saturday evening. She was examined by some physician up near her home in Mannington district and pronounced insane. She was sent to jail to await orders to send her to Weston. Her actions did not indicate that she was of unsound mind and Drs. Sands and Kunst examined her. They reported her to be in her right mind and she was turned out. It is claimed that her mother wanted to get rid of her and put in the charge of insanity. The husband is in the Philippines. The humane society will try to get a home for the woman.

Two Shows.

The Sells' and Dawns' circus, forty-two cars, will exhibit at Fairmont on July 7.

John R. Gentry's Dog and Pony show will be here July 4.

The time is being taken up in Justice Amos' court today by a case between an electrical company and a tureen Electrical company and a priest at Monongah. The suit is over some fixtures in the new church at that place.

Floyd and Earl Hawkins, of the Fifth ward, who constitute the firm of the Fairmont Tile Company, have the contract of laying the foundations for four new houses to be built in the Fourth ward between Tenth and Eleventh streets. The houses are for glass workers.

Children's Day Exercises.

Yesterday was a great day in the local churches for the little folks. At the Presbyterian, the Temple and the Baptist churches were held the children's day exercises. The little folks look forward each year to these exercises and are always made glad by them. The exercises will follow in the other churches in the next few weeks.

Boy Shot.

Yesterday afternoon, while shooting at a mark with some other boys near Farmington, Dick Weaver, aged 17, was accidentally shot in the shoulder. He was placed in a wagon and brought to the Miner's Hospital, where he is receiving treatment. It seems that one boy had shot and was handing the gun to Weaver when it was discharged, the ball penetrating Weaver's shoulder. As is always the case the gun was not loaded. The boy is reported to be in some danger.

Miner Hurt.

Dr. Huestead Brownfield brought in on No. 50, an Italian miner with a broken leg, caused by a fall of slate in the Beechwood mines. He was taken to the Miner's Hospital.

REVELERS CELEBRATE OVER THE RESULT OF AN ELECTION. ONE MAN IS DEAD AS A RESULT.

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, June 20.—Saturday night was the most exciting in the history of Crooksville, the occasion being a riotous jollification over the success of the liquor element in a local election held there Saturday. The wets won by a vote of 66 and at once proceeded to celebrate.

Several dray loads of drinkables, which had been kept in waiting in the outskirts, were carted into the town and distributed.

The celebration was continued all night. Crowds congregated about the residence of some of the leaders of the anti-liquor faction and stoned the houses, breaking the windows. Two crowds of the revelers, representing what is known as the "Eastsiders" and "Westiders" threatened each other with annihilation and discharged hundreds of revolver shots in the air by way of emphasis.

Earl Pierce, one of the revelers, was found dead Sunday morning, lying beneath a Zanesville and Western trestle in the outskirts of the town with his head crushed. It is supposed he was struck by a train. The other faction is making preparations to contest the election.

SCRAP

OVER THE LOSS OF A POCKET-BOOK—A MYSTERY SOLVED AND A BOY CLEARED.

An altercation occurred at Bell Wilson's fruit store at noon to-day, in which the proprietor and two employees were the participants. It seems that a young lady employee left her pocketbook lying on the desk when she went to lunch. A young fellow who works there saw a colored lad who is also employed around the place, come out of the office, in the act of placing something in his pocket. For his zealous efforts to ascertain the nature of the article, a fight resulted, which the proprietor stopped. A search of the office revealed the pocketbook in the waste basket, and no money or valuables missing.

GIBRALTER, June 20.—Admiral Parker's squadron arrived at Gibraltar from Lisbon to-day. After coaling the squadron will proceed to Tangier.

Mr. B.—Did you take any money out of my pockets last night, dear? I've missed a roll of bills.

Mrs. B.—Yes, Charlie, I did. I know, they say that old bills are full of bacteria it isn't safe to use them at all; and they were fully old ones.

Mr. B.—And did you wash them thoroughly?

Mrs. B.—I think so.

Mr. B.—How do you feel now?

Mrs. B.—Well, I feel better.

Mr. B.—That's good.

IN A SEA OF MUD OUR BOYS DID THE GOOSE EGG BUSINESS TO WELLSBURG.

"RED" LAING WAS ON THE WRONG SIDE YESTERDAY. THE SCORE WAS 1 TO 0.

In mud ankle deep, the locals won the closest game of the season from McConkey's Wellsburg bunch. Qualey, the new twirler, was the hero. Besides shutting Weston out Friday, and allowing but one hit, he cracked out a two sacker in the ninth yesterday which drove the only run of the game across the plate.

"Red" Laing, the ex-Fairmont pitcher, was opposed to his old team mates, and pitched an article of ball which should win most games. After it was decided to play in the sea of mud, McConkey, who was slated to perform, declined, and young "Red" showed them all that a team of hitters had no terrors for him. He pulled safely out of bad holes, both in the fourth and sixth innings. He also struck five men out in succession.

Fairmont batted first, and Wayman grounded. Woods to McConkey. Gibbs flew to McNichols. Heim hit a safe one over second, but Vasbinder forced him at second.

McConnell struck out and McGee drew base on balls, as did McConkey. Hamm struck out and Woods grounded. Qualey to Bryson.

Stillwell flied to McGee and Bryson grounded out to the same one. McDonald flied out to Robinson.

Robinson grounded to Vasbinder and Davis and McNichols struck out.

Fairmont had a chance to score in this inning and Qualey's base-running was depended upon to that end, but the mud is responsible for his capture, while trying to steal second, after getting to first on Robinson's miserable fumble of his grounder. Edwards then hit through short for a single, and Wayman followed suit, but Gibbs grounded to Laing and Heim flied to McConkey.

Laing was hit by a pitched ball and McConnell fouled to Edwards, a difficult chance. McGee struck out and McConkey flew to Stillwell.

Again Fairmont failed to score in the fourth, all on account of Laing. Vasbinder hit the first ball to left for a pair, but died there when Stillwell, Bryson and McDonald struck out.

Hamm rolled a slow one to Vasbinder and was out. Woods then singled over second, but Vas showed the crowd that he knew something about striking batsmen out, when he retired the next two, Robinson and Davis, on pitched balls.

Qualey and Edwards struck out, making five straight ones for the Auburn Haird Over the Creek Kid. Wayman sent an easy one to Robinson and beat it out when the latter fumbled. Gibbs forced him at second.

McNichols grounded to Vasbinder and Laing and McConnell struck out. Heim singled past first, took second on a wild pitch and went to third on Stillwell's single over that station, after Vasbinder struck out. Bryson struck out and McDonald flew to left, ending the inning.

McGee and Hamm grounded to Heim and McConkey did the same to Still.

Qualey flied to McGee, Edwards grounded to first, and Wayman flied to Laing.

Vasbinder was in a bad fix in this inning, but came out with flying colors, as usual. Woods, the first man up singled over third and went to second when Robinson drew a pass; but Davis and McNichols struck out and Laing grounded, Stilly to Bryson.

Gibbs flied to Davis, Heim grounded to Robinson and Vasbinder grounded to Laing.

Wellsburg was dangerous in their half of the eighth when McConnell was safe on his grounder to Bryson, and Wayman dropped McGee's fly. McConnell hit one to Heim, who let it get by, and three men were on bases and no hands down. Hamm purposefully stepped in front of an inshoot, but Slack would not allow it. He then flew to Vasbinder. Woods struck out and Robinson flied to Edwards. Hamm was slightly hurt when hit, and Farrell went behind the bat.

The ninth was the heart breaker for Wellsburg, and this is how it happened: Stillwell flied out to Woods, and Bryson gave McGee an easy chance, but he was scared of it and let it go. McDonald sacrificed Bryson to second. Then Qualey, after swinging vainly at two good ones, caught one square on the nose. It went twenty feet over McConnell's head, scoring the big first baseman. While Edwards was at bat, Qualey was caught trying to pilfer third.

In the visitors' half of the ninth, they went out, one, two, three. Davis grounded to Vasbinder, McNichols struck out and Laing fouled to Edwards, his sixteenth chance of the game, a wonderful record for a catcher, on a muddy field.

CLEVER CROOKS

OF BOTH SEAS ARE DOING BUSINESS IN ST. LOUIS—MANY VISITORS DISAPPEAR UNACCOUNTABLY.

AN ENGLISH VISITOR GIVES A VERY BAD REPORT OF THE BIG EXPOSITION.

MANCHESTER, June 20.—The Dispatch to-day quotes a gentleman who has just returned from St. Louis as giving an appalling description of the Exposition city since the opening of the World's Fair there. The exhibition, he says, has attracted all the cleverest crooks of both seas. Visitors disappear unaccountably. Robbers and murderers are splendidly organized.

He continues: "It is useless to expect the American police to trouble themselves with such trifles. A shrug of the shoulder is the only response to complaint or charges. The city has ruinously high buildings which are but flimsily constructed boxes. The rooms resemble lockers, and the meals are wretchedly poor. The waiters serve in their shirt sleeves, smoking, chewing and spitting over the heads of the diners, though with such wonderful accuracy that accidents seldom occur. "The only safe way for a stranger to see the town is to join the Salvation Army and accompany it in its peregrinations."

FATAL BLOW

WARRANT FOR JOHN SAWYER, CHARGING MURDER, HAS BEEN ISSUED.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 20.—As a result of the death of David Henderson, of Bellaire, which occurred at 7 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, No. 2515 Oak alley, John Sawyer is wanted by the police authorities, and when apprehended will have to answer to a charge of murder.

Henderson's death was the result of injuries he sustained last Tuesday evening, when he was assaulted by Sawyer, crushing his skull. He was rendered unconscious by the blow and remained in that condition up to the time of his death yesterday morning. After committing the deed Sawyer left for parts unknown, and although the police have been on a constant lookout for him, he has not been located.

Coroner D. T. Phillips, of Morris-town, was notified of the matter and he arrived in Bellaire about noon, and with Dr. W. N. Rogers, conducted a post-mortem examination over the remains, and later an inquest was held at the office of Squire J. W. Morrell. Quite a number of witnesses were examined and the evidence tended to show that the assault was entirely unprovoked.
